Stanley Robert Treloar was born on the 8th of June 1942 at Beltana, to parents Ted and Eileen. He was the youngest of four children, he had two older brothers, and a sister.

Stanley grew up at Blinman with his mother, brothers and sister. He met his wife Lois when he was at Blinman when he was about 11 years old. However, it wasn't until he was 16 and Lois 14, that they became an item. They married and had 6 children and he was step father to one.

Stanley was a hard working man who worked at various jobs throughout his life including station hand, trucking companies, railways, delivering mail, building houses, handyman and labourer.

Stanley was a man who liked a beer or two. Stanley was not an angel and he was a man who didn't mince words.

People usually loved him or loathed him, but it didn't bother him what people thought of him.

Stanley lived life to the full and even though he was sick he continued to live life in the fast lane.

For those who knew him well, will remember he took pride in referring to himself as "Stan the Man", Well all we can say on that is Stan the Man we hope you are running amuck with your family and friends you have gone to join.

You will be missed
